Wreath wrangling

The scent of evergreens was in the air at Green Thumb Nursery as Sharon Plecas, left, Cheryl Curkowskyj, Marion Baker, Patricia Ford, Pat Wagar and June Farmer, members of Altrusa Club of Nanaimo, made wreaths for their annual Christmas fundraiser.

Grant targets homelessness

Thanks to the generosity of donors, United Way Central and Northern Vancouver Island provided a grant of $6,000 to the Nanaimo Women's Resources Society's Homes to Homes Program in Nanaimo.

Homes to Homes is a new program that the society launched in August to help people exiting homelessness transition into supportive housing. The program provides household items, furniture (with the exception of couches or mattresses) and starter kits that include dish soap, towels, plates, glassware and other items. Clients of community non-profits that assist individuals and families with housing can request a starter kit or specific furniture items.

When new furniture items are donated, the society posts photos and descriptions of the items on a private Facebook group that care workers have access to. They can find household items that their clients need in order to help establish a comfortable home.
